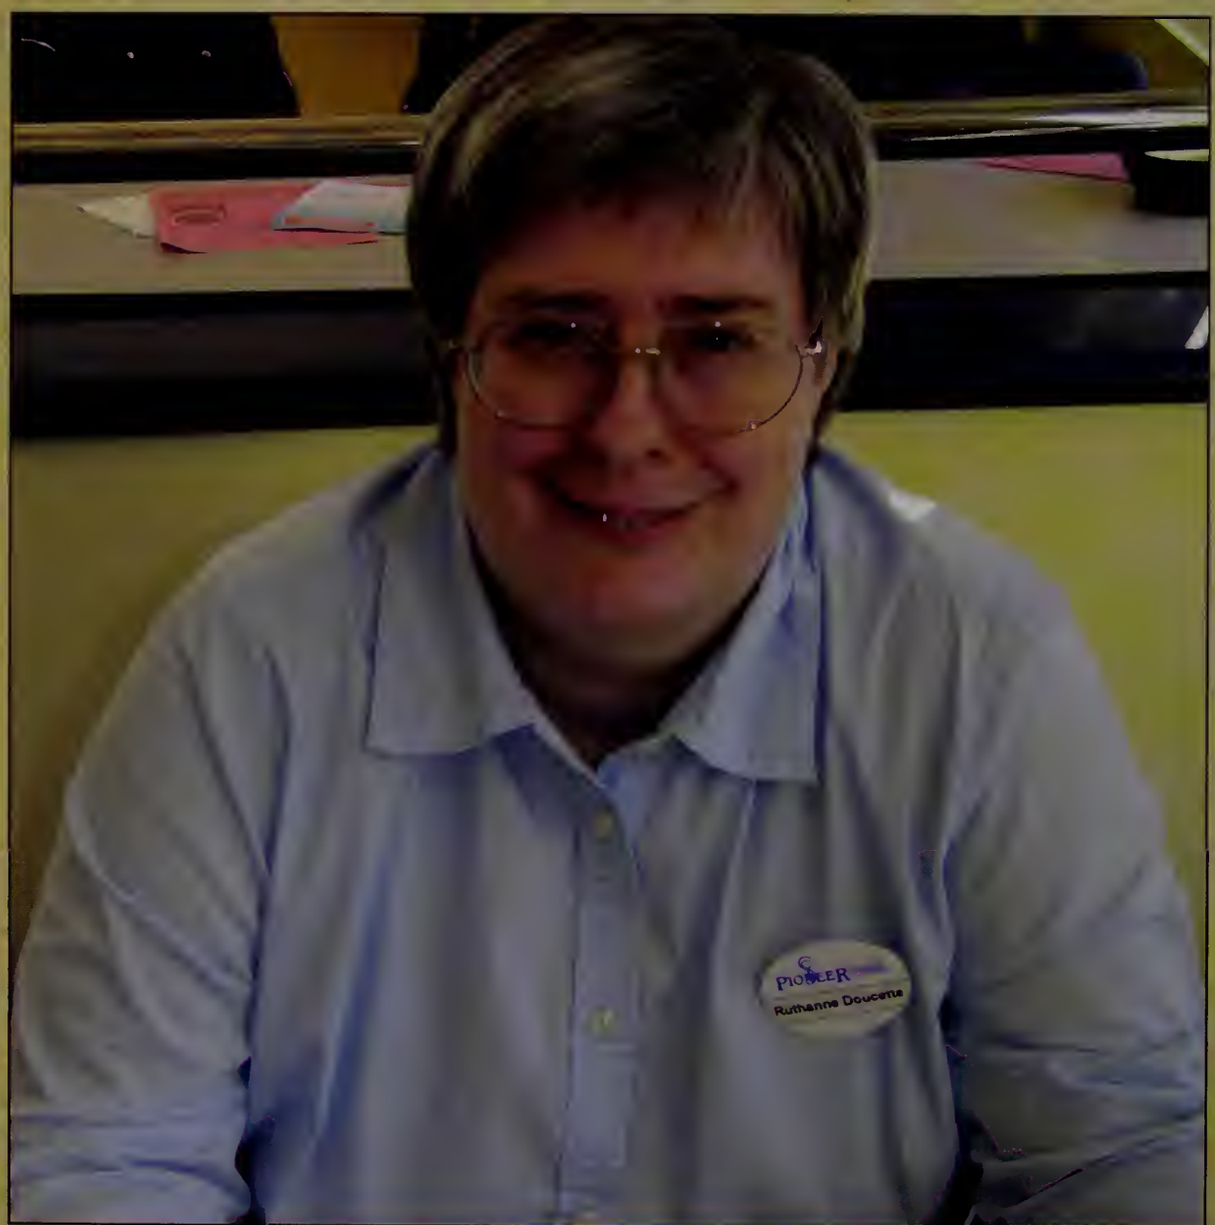
Dedicated to...

Ruthanne



Doucette

For the past twelve years Ruthanne Doucette has been your official "greeter" as you enter the Commons. Ruthanne has shown a dedication to her work that has been exceptional over her many years of service. Her ability to learn your name within the first few weeks of school is a gift. Her smile, even on a lousy day, can give you a lift to face the rest of your day. Many times you will see Ruthanne talking to students while sitting in a chair beside her at the front desk. She has been given a gift to others with words of encouragement and kindness. There are some kitchen staff members who will often refer to her as their counselor, trying to gain some of her understanding about a certain situation.

People come and go in this environment, as you all know, but there are certain individuals who leave a "mark" and I feel Ruthanne is one of those individuals. I would encourage each of you to introduce yourself to Ruthanne if you have not done so already, then you will see the "mark" that she will leave on your life. God has truly blessed ENC with people like Ruthanne Doucette.

Letter from the President:

Today, in 2008, you are holding this yearbook as a monument to what you've accomplished in the last four years: completing intense assignments, making it to early classes, maturing beyond belief, maintaining a part-time job, not to mention packing your social calendars!

You most likely have mixed feelings about graduation – I know I did when I graduated from college 30 years ago. I was excited to be going out into the world, but sad to leave behind the place that had become my home. You know ENC is the kind of place that you'll never find again: it's a whole institution dedicated to making your life better academically, professionally, personally, and spiritually. And intertwined with this preparation have been many individuals that have made investments in your life – faculty mentors, friends, your family, churches, and donors all prayed and provided for you. They have made it possible to be here, and they make it hard to want to leave.

Twenty years from now, this yearbook will serve as a reminder of these four years that passed too quickly. You'll laugh at the pictures – in 2028, your hairdo and outfits surely will be funny! The yearbook will also transport you back to the place that not only prepared you for your job, but more importantly, prepared you for your life. What you received at ENC didn't stop when you stepped outside that classroom door.

And it doesn't stop when you step off the campus. In May 2008, you become a part of a prestigious group: ENC graduates. They are people who have circled the globe working to make other's lives better academically, professionally, personally, and spiritually. They have passed along what was passed to them. We know you'll do the same. And we want to hear all about it! So please, come back to Homecoming, participate in alumni events; you'll never find another ENC and we'll never find another you.

Though it doesn't seem like it now, the years between now and 2028 will fly by. My advice for navigating them: Make your plans, set your goals, dream big, pray hard, and continue to learn – ENC is the foundation for a life of learning, but live your life so committed to the Lord Jesus Christ that His plans become your plans, and His will becomes your will. His plans are more rewarding and fulfilling than anything you can imagine.

Sincerely,
President Corlis McGee

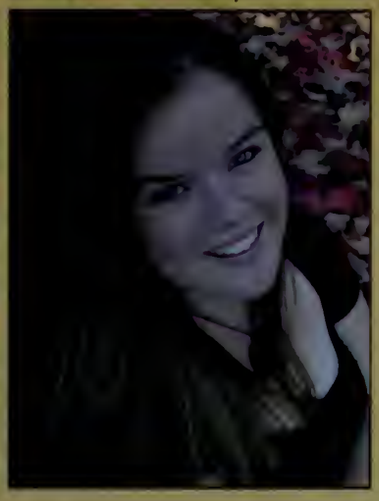
Letter from the Senior Class President:



To The Senior Class,

Congratulations for all the hard work that you have put forth to come to this point in your life. Graduation is a time of celebration and it is a time to reminisce about the past four years of our lives.

Looking back on the years that have gone by - as a new class starts and an old one ends, we ponder upon what has brought us joy, and we think of our loved ones and our friends. Looking back at all the happy times, remembering how they enriched our lives, we reflect on who and what really counts. When I ponder on those who made that difference in my life, I think of all of you and the time we shared here at the "Naz." Thanks for being one of the reasons my experience here at ENC has been so awesome. Whether or not we realize it now, God has blessed each of us in so many ways - and he will continue to bless us after we graduate.

Don't forget to thank those who have supported you, those who have invested both time and finances to help you, and those who loved you to help you make it through these four years. I pray that the Lord will do wonderful things in your lives. God bless. The Class of 2008 is truly great!!

Our deepest fear is not that we are inadequate. Our deepest fear is that we are powerful beyond measure. It is our light, not our darkness that most frightens us. We ask ourselves, Who am I to be brilliant, gorgeous, talented, fabulous? Actually, who are you not to be? You are a child of God. Your playing small does not serve the world. There is nothing enlightened about shrinking so that other people won't feel insecure around you. We are all meant to shine, as children do. We were born to make manifest the glory of God that is within us. It is not just in some of us; it is in everyone. And as we let our own light shine, we unconsciously give other people permission to do the same. As we are liberated from our own fear, our presence automatically liberates others.

Commencement

May 17, 2008

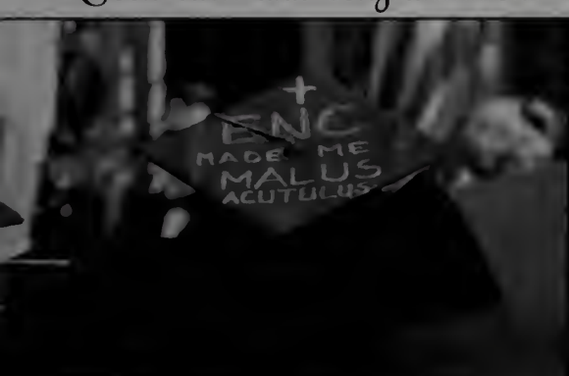
On Saturday, May 17th, the class of 2008 celebrated years of perseverance, hard work,and fun. Graduates received their diplomas with pride in the work they had done to earn their degrees. Commencement can be bittersweet as graduating students look back on all of the amazing memories, say goodbye to many of the friends they have made, and exit the ENC gates into a whole new world. At the same time there is a sense of wonderful things to come, goals to accomplish, and dreams to come true.

Good luck and congratulations to all of the graduates of 2008!



MARKS-A-LOT

Faculty and Staff

The faculty and staff here at Eastern Nazarene College become just as much a part of our memories of college as do our friends, our dorm life, and our classes.

There is something refreshing about having professors who are both understanding and concerned for our well being. It speaks volumes to be able to say that it is not an uncommon occurrence to see professors sharing cafeteria tables with students, engaged in conversation. Faculty and staff are always right around the corner to inquire how things are going, say hello, or wish you a good weekend.

From guidance on a tough day, to that crazy professor whose class is always full of laughter and learning, to those who make sure none of us go hungry, the faculty and staff are always there.

Not only do these individuals become a part of our memories at ENC, but they enable us to make all of those memories by ensuring that our campus stays running smoothly and up to par.

President of Eastern Nazarene College

Thank-you

for seeing us as individuals and not as numbers for caring about our emotional and spiritual lives as well as our academic lives for encouraging friendships to form between us and you for looking out for what's best for us even though it's not your job for believing in us.

Thank-you all

Underclassmen

Being a student at Eastern Nazarene College means a lot of things. It means going to classes, eating meals in the cafeteria and Dugout, making the occasional trip to Nease Library to do research or work on a group project, and attending Chapel twice a week (to escape being fined). However, it is highly unlikely that these will be the things that we find remarkable enough to remember years and years from now when we look back on our lives at ENC

The real memories that we will look back upon about ENC will be the very life of this campus - the students! Anyone who has stayed the weekend on the ENC campus will testify to the fact that when the all the students go home the life, the vigor, and the excitement of our campus goes, too.

As underclassmen we are in the process of making memories, whether you are a freshman, sophomore, or junior. You can look back to last week and reminisce about the incredible memories that have already been archived in your minds. We teach each other and we learn from each other; we live together and eat together; we attend classes together and pray together. We are growing together, and that's what gives ENC life.

Reminiscence

Junior year really makes you appreciate life at ENC. With your journey half way through, you laugh until you cry as you reminisce about mattress surfing and you enjoy every new memory that you make with the friends you've lived with these past two years. Your friends know you all too well and you've become like a college family.

There is an increased appreciation for a good nap and there are feelings of relief and accomplishment in having completed classes like Arts and Music and EMES.

You've come a long way and there's a part of you that can't believe time has flown so quickly. But the other part of you can't wait to get out in "the real world".

Returning to ENC in the fall surprisingly feels like home. You've chosen your roommate and are happy to see the friends you made freshman year. Now it's time to get serious...kind of.

With a year of experience resting on your shoulders you know the importance of occasionally passing up the midnight run to Wendy's in order to study for your Western Heritage exam or write that World Lit paper. You have also figured out your way around the crowded streets of Quincy and which direction you need to get on the Red Line to go into Boston.

Through all the lessons learned and those fun, crazy stories that you'll never forget, your second year at ENC will be a memorable one.

Making the transition from high school and home life to college and dorm life can be a bit overwhelming at first. In no time there are a million awkward moments, including "getting to know you" activities and countless introductions, the adjustment to a new bed and, for that matter, a roommate, and of course, curfew and classes. Once the homesickness lessens, your dorm bed feels just right, and you've figured out what not to eat in the cafeteria, the fun begins.

There are always adventures to be had in Boston, walks to take at Wolly beach, and sporting events to attend, filled with a new found school spirit: Go Crusaders! Gradually the transition is made from being the newbies who can't find Peavey lecture hall to becoming the well adjusted students who realize that staying up past 2 a.m. every night is just not a good plan.

Sports

Never has there been a school year like 2007-2008.

This year brought with it a surge of school spirit that's been missing in action on the ENC campus for years. Athletes, coaches, sports equipment, plenty of practice, and games make up the athletics at ENC. However, it's the fans that make it all worthwhile. Our school has truly proven this point this year by coming together, fully clad in red, white, and black to support baseball, basketball, volleyball, our intramural sports, and more.

No matter what the final scores may have been, we should all be proud of the hard work and dedication put in by all of our Crusaders, and everyone who puts in the effort to make our athletic department what it is. And, of course, there is no way to thank the ENC community for coming together and supporting the teams like they have done this year. The cheering and school spirit that was brought forth was just what our athletic teams needed this year.

Sports enable our athletes on campus to shine and demonstrate their strengths in doing what they enjoy, as well as providing a common ground for our school community to come out as a community of support to watch, cheer, and encourage our sports teams.

GO CRUSADERS!

WOMEN'S SOCCER

"Soccer is not just a sport for me, but my life's passion. Over the years it has rewarded me in numerous ways. With the guide of the best coach I've ever had and my fellow teammates, I have been able to further my athletic ability and form the closest relationships I've ever had."

- Brook Hale

Starting the season off with a victory over Green Mountain College, the Women's Soccer team showed promise for improvement over last year's season. Even when tripped up by a number of injuries, the Lady Crusaders kept their game competitive and even pulled off some shut out wins. If the team keeps the trend, next fall should prove to be an exciting season with the addition of some talented freshmen.

MEN'S SOCCER

"It being my 4th year on the team, this was a very special season because I knew it was my last; I really tried to soak up every aspect of the season. I wish I could be around for another season, but I am excited to see where next year's leaders take the team."

- Jesse Mix

A heartbreaking home opener loss in overtime seemed to be the start of a tough road for the Men's soccer team. Even though their first win came a little late in the season, the Crusaders went on to the field and played hard each and every game. Assistant Coach Ken said that this year's team was a strong one; next season it will be exciting to see how the younger players make the most of their experience and start taking the leadership roles on the field.

WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL

"This year's Volleyball season was a frustrating one. We are extremely talented, and our freshmen are phenomenal, but we didn't finish games or get the wins we needed. Because we are not satisfied with the outcome of this season, I know that is just going to push everyone in the off-season. When next season comes I know all the hard work will pay off."

- Christina Ludwick

Crusader Volleyball started off very strong with a 3-1 record. The middle of the season became a bit more difficult as the team battled through a few very competitive matches. Always drawing a crowd to the Home games, ENC was excited to see the Women's Volleyball team finish up with double digits in the Win column while the team itself is expecting to get better and better the next few seasons.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

"The tennis team did great this year. We were very fortunate to add two freshmen with experience, which made out lineup stronger. With the top of the team being underclassmen, the team has much room to grow and gain experience. The seniors were always positive and supportive and I wish them good luck after graduation. I am excited to see the growth of the team next year and I can't wait until fall!"

- Allison Cammarata

ENC Women's Tennis team was one to watch out for this season with a 6-5 overall record through the end of September. Although there were some struggles through the month of October, the players cannot wait to see where all of the strong undergraduate talent will take the team next fall.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

"Even though we didn't have the most successful year, I view this season as a blessing in disguise because we grew a lot by not giving up. By working together we now have the foundation to overcome anything. We're looking forward to next year."

- Amanda Remmel

The Women's Crusader Basketball team played extremely well through November and entered December with a winning record. The Winter months were not easy ones for the team, but despite the hardships, they never gave up and always went on to the court ready to give everything they had. The team plans on giving nothing less than that next year.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

"Being able to play the magnificent sport of Basketball at ENC for 4 years has been the gift of a lifetime; it built character, discipline and camaraderie. If I could leave the upcoming team with anything it would be to work hard in reaching your goals and to never give up no matter the obstacle."

- King LC Jasmin, 1000 point scorer

Although the season was overall a tough one for the ENC Men's Basketball team, there was always huge crowd support and some awesome and exciting moments. One of those moments was when the Men's team broke a losing streak by defeating rival Gordon College with a commanding 82-69 win. The crowd could not keep their seats when, on a few occasions throughout the season, DeAngelo Alston set up J.P. Marcellus for some monstrous ally-oops. Best of luck to the graduating Seniors, and to the players that will fill their shoes next season.

Mens Tennis

"This was a tough season do to many match cancellations. We had a lot of rescheduled matches that resulted in having to play about 13 in a period of 17 days. Though our record did't show it, we had a lot of close matches, even with the amoun of injuries we had. It was a fun season and we hope to improve for next year."

- Tyler Restrick

Spring Training down in Hilton Head, SC started off rough, but they guys pulled it together to win their last match of the week. They began the regular season winning 3 out of 4 matches, but a number of difficult opponents kept the men from continuing their streak. However, even with some key injuries, the team finished off the season with a win and is very excited for next year.

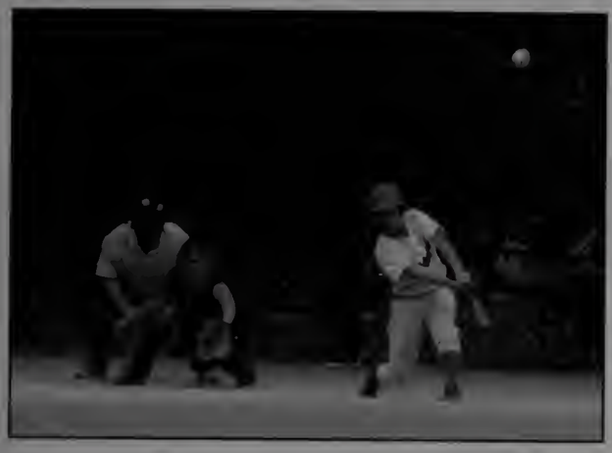
Women's Softball

"I think softball went great this year! It would have been nice to make it into the playoffs, but we improved a lot from last year. The freshman really spoke for themselves and made a big contribution to the team. This year was a lot of fun and I can't wait to see what we can do next year!"

- Rachel Sorensen



Despite the long and difficult month of March, the Crusader Softball team would not let their spirits get down as they turned their season around in April. Their first win came at home and was convincing with a score of 9-3. The Ladies kept their bats blazing for the rest of the season and even pulled off a few come-from-behind victories with multiple homeruns. Falling short of the playoffs this season, the team looks to give it their all to get there next year.

Men's Baseball

"It was a tough season but we had a good time with a great group of guys. We are looking forward to improving for next season."

- Steve Doyle

Overall, it was a difficult year for the Men's Baseball team. Even though they suffered some big losses, ENC played hard every game trying to pick up the wins. Looking towards next season, the men finished off on the right foot with a double header victory over Anna Maria College.

Back Row: Josh Daniels, Dave Dickerson, Tom Jordon, Matt Flagg, Stephen Newman, Justin Denbow, Juan Rivera

Clubs and Organizations

While we may have full course schedules, never-ending homework, and jobs to help our finances, we make space in our schedules to take time out for those things that interest us, those that we feel passionately about, and those that we enjoy doing.

Clubs and organizations give students an opportunity to come together through common interests and convictions and to take part in meetings and activities. Sometimes the shift of discussion from classroom topics to something that we really enjoy, or simply being in the presence of people with similar interests to us, can give us the boost we need to get through another week of classes, work, and an overall lack of sleep.

Whether you are interested in ministry, children, acting, science, music, working with the student body, or creating memories of ENC that will be kept for years to come, there is a club or organization fit for everyone. Although Guitar Hero will probably never get old, clubs and organizations provide ENC students with the opportunity to get involved, be productive, and pursue interests, all the while fostering old and new friendships.

Executive SGA

The Executive SGA council serves to represent the student body to the administration of Eastern Nazarene College and to organize events, ministries, and clubs, providing an active campus life for students.

General SGA

The General SGA is composed of representatives from ENC's publications, class councils and other organizations who join together to consolidate resources, share ideas and push towards improving student life at ENC.

Campus Camera

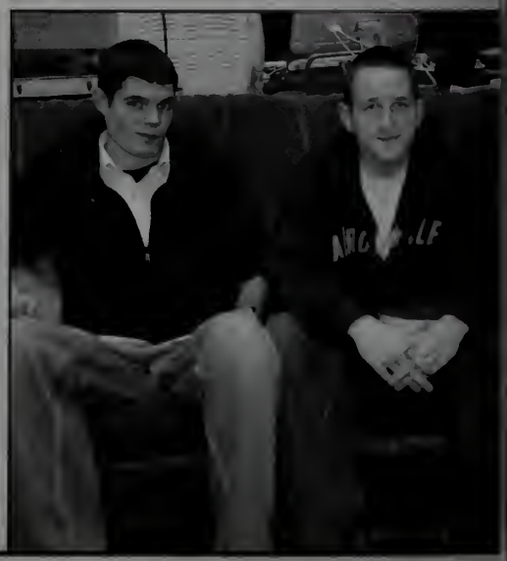
The Campus Camera is the voice of the student body, bringing the latest news and events ENC has to offer to the surrounding community. This year the Cam Cam was at the forefront on issues important to students, from ENC "going green," to the elections, to starting a community-wide dialogue about our mascot. With a polished new layout and stellar writing, the Cam Cam strives to represent the very essence of a college publication.



Nautilus

Bottom Left: Co-Editors Christina Chestna and Hilary Gallagher battle it out to see who is the best of the Nautilus editors.

The Nautilus is ENC's age-old yearbook publication. We serve the student body by working as a team of two co-editors, two layouts designers, and three photographers to create and produce a quality yearbook that accurately portrays the current academic year. We seek to represent the vast amount of ENC events and sporting events, ENC sponsored clubs and organizations, and of course, the people of ENC-the student body and the faculty and staff in the book so that every member of the ENC community can enjoy reminiscing about the year in the future.

History Club

Top Right: Some of the ladies of the History Club, Rachel Bridges, Kate Brule, and Emily Dunham, pauses to enjoy each others company.

Bottom Right: A large crowd of students gather for a lecture series set up by the History Club.

History Club brings together history majors and other interested students in order to promote awareness of the past to share in fellowship. We hold several special dinners throughout the year, host movie and game nights, and attend lectures in Boston and at area universities. We also have a tradition of challenging other departments to softball games; we usually win. With Phi Alpha Theta, the history honors society, selected students attend and present papers at regional conferences.

Business Society

The Business Society exists to help students network with business professionals. This year the society has hosted several "Chat with a President" lectures, featuring successful business professionals from the greater Boston area. The 2007-2008 Business Society Council has truly enjoyed sponsoring events for the students of ENC.

Shrader Club

Top Right: Catarina Sophia Semedo (Administrative Assistant) and Connie Slocum (Finance) take a moment to capture some memories from Shrader Club.

Bottom Right: Sara Miller and Jasmine Smith battle it out in a video game at the Women of Grace's Reverse Roles Night.

Women of G.R.A.C.E. (God, Relationships, Awareness, Compassion, Empowerment) is a women's group that seeks to educate and encourage women. Our group's goal is to empower the women of campus to reach their goals in life, and to grow as strong, passionate and capable Women of God. We believe in the equality of men and women, and promote healthy and educational experiences that allow for both sexes to share their feelings on issues ranging from sexuality to exploitation to eating disorders. Our most important goal is to serve God as strong women.

JUMP

Front Row, L-R: Lori Soares, Jennifer Wilderman, Kerri Mills (Co-Leader), Nadine Sa.

JUMP Drama Ministry is a group of people of actors, singers, or even premed students who have a love for drama and a love for God. We travel to churches and schools and minister to them through skits and dramatic readings. This year, our most memorable trip was our trip to Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania. God worked through us that weekend in so many ways. We are truly a family at JUMP.

Open Hand Open Heart

Top Right: Co-Leaders Matt Woodley and Joshua Burley prepare sandwiches to hand out in Boston with Carissa Schutz and Jeremy Hermann.

Bottom Right: Andrew Leman, Edward Hardter and Josh Burley pause in the park to pray with a man who has been living on the streets.

Open Hand, Open Heart goes into Boston multiple times on weekends and has no membership system.
Co-Leaders: Matthew Woodley and Joshua Burley.

Open Hand Open Heart is an outreach ministry for the homeless in Boston. We believe that God loves us even though we do not deserve it. Because of this, we love others even though most would say they do not deserve it. Twice every Saturday we meet in the Dugout to make sandwiches and walk to the T with food, orange juice, clothes, and blankets to reach the needy in Boston. We do this because we also believe that Jesus cares for our physical needs as well as our spiritual needs.

Prayer Warriors

Prayer Warriors is a group committed to praying for ENC and the requests that come to them from the student body. It is a time to lift each other up in prayer and focus on what God can do in our lives.

Ski Club

The Ski Team participates in intercollegiate competition against such elite programs as Yale. It is a racing team and members race both slalom and giant slalom. They are in the McBrine Division of the USCSA (United States Collegiate Ski Association). Members raced at several ski areas throughout New Hampshire and Vermont on weekends all winter. The Ski Club had a fairly good season for such a small team.

Substitute Mentors

Substitute Mentors is a ministry for students and faculty to share in fellowship outside the classroom. Paired together by choice, one faculty and one student choose a meeting day regularly to talk about anything that is going on in the student's life and the faculty's as well. A great time for sharing, advice and perspective on life, for the student it's from someone who has already experienced college, and for faculty, it's to remember a youthful perspective on life.

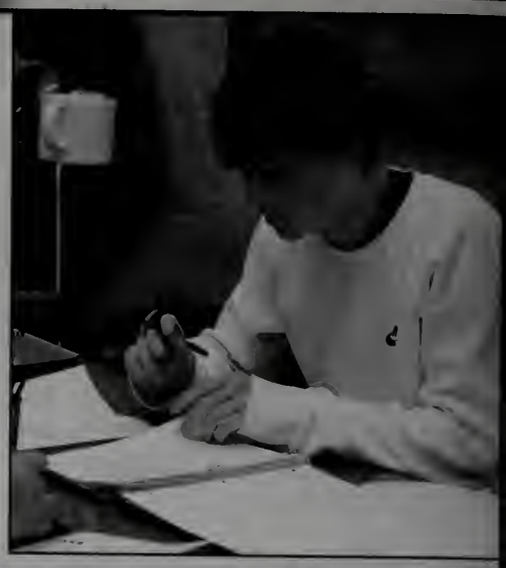
Candids

Acc. Review Board



Top Right: Jordan Corbin looks over SGA proceedings to ensure that things continue to run smoothly.

The ARB works toward maintaining the accountability of council members on a monthly basis. The Board consists of members of different classes who meet at an established time each month to review class councils, commuter councils and executive council members of ENC. These meetings act as a time for the board to review each councils' monthly records, goals, and events. The ARB board also discusses concerns resulting from the review of these councils and its members.

Publications Board

Front Row, L-R: Christina Chestna, Magon Parent (Chair), Cara Pasik, Hilary Gallagher.

The purpose of the ENC Publications Board is to provide the necessary leadership to ensure strength and continuity for the college's official student publications, the Campus Camera and the Nautilus. In fulfilling this purpose, the Publications Board will serve in the following general capacities: (1) Ensure reasonable standards of quality are maintained by each publication, (2) provide support and guidance to editors and staff members in dealing with issues related to the operation of the publication, and (3) select strong leaders to serve as editors for the student publications.

WAM

WAM is a time for students to get together and unwind. They can eat some free food, hear some great music and preaching and be free to worship God in whatever way is best. WAM is another opportunity for community to happen, and this year we have done just that.

WAM is coordinated by Philip Nase and holds a worship event about once a month for all students and community members to attend.

Far Right: Lindell Pascall and Lora Wooster share in a laugh during a WAM event.

Right: Michael Kennedy listens well to the worship music being performed.

The Plunge

The Plunge is basically a movie ministry that meets on Wednesday nights to watch old Twilight Zone episodes and discuss how they relate to our faith. There is also a time for prayer requests and discussion within the group. We call Shrader Lecture home.

Business Chinese

Mandarin Chinese is the most spoken language in the world. This introductory class and organization are a great way to get a "taste" of the Chinese culture and language. We focus on basic Mandarin conversations and explore traditional Chinese culture through activities to enrich understanding of the people and their origins.

Right: Rachael Iezenburg enjoys some time with the Business Chinese club on their trip to China Town.

HIS

HIS stands for Helping In Secret. This ministry is built for students who need a flexible schedule and who want to do a variety of ministries. It is a way for students to discover what kind of ministry they really want to do. Each week, the student is assigned a new ministry project by anonymous means. It is for those who want to work quietly and in a variety of areas for the Kingdom of God.

*There are various members of HIS. However, since HIS does require helping in secret, the members of HIS will remain anonymous.*

Far Left: Members of HIS could be sitting next to you or living on your floor. Don't worry - this isn't a creepy thing. They're just out there to givw you a helping hand and brighten your day!

Commuter Council

The Commuter Council has been out of commission for a while, but this year it has been up and running. The Council offers commuters the opportunity to voice their opinions about campus matters and the role that commuters play on our campus. Commuters can get to know each other, participate in organized events, such as the Commuter Breakfast and bowling, and work towards their goal of being recognized on campus.

Eco-Serve

Eco-Serve is about providing opportunities, to those who want them, to live green lives locally or take environmental action globally. Eco-Serve's focus this year has included talking about how to implement ecologically forward practices on campus and assisting the recycling program at ENC. Anyone who has an idea or desire to act on behalf of the environment can be provided with a network here. Whether you just want to talk or if you have a mission of your own, Eco-Serve is here for the environmental issues of today.

Bottom Right: Miria Calvacanti and Lauren Emery participate in an SSJ discussion.

Students for Social Justice is an awareness group recognizing the need for social change. In collaboration with other groups on campus, we strive to bring awareness to pressing social, environmental and economic issues of our day. This year we have specifically focused our energy towards campus-wide environmental efforts. We believe in thinking globally, living locally and bringing the gospel to life.

Kids Club

Kids' Club is a ministry of the Bethel Church of the Nazarene to the underprivileged children in the Germantown neighborhood of Quincy. Once a week members of the church and ENC student volunteers lead activities, from songs and skits to games and crafts. By doing so we hope to introduce children to the love and grace of Christ.

STAND

STAND is an acronym for Students Taking Aids kNeeling Down. STAND is a ministry of awareness and action. STAND keeps ENC informed and accountable concerning the AIDS epidemic around the world. Through special events and fundraisers, STAND reaches out with Christ's love to those affected by HIV/AIDS.

Phi Alpha Theta

L-R: Emily Dunham, Cameron Young, Anne Reilly, Matthew LeBlanc.

Phi Alpha Theta is the History Honors Society, which many members of the History Club are a part of. Members of Phi Alpha Theta handle much of the events for the History Club and receive a distinguishing cord to wear on the day that they graduate.

Guitar Ensemble

The Guitar Ensemble is made up of talente students who enjoy playing guitar. These students take time out of their busy schedu each week to practice pieces of various styl to perform together in annual concerts. Th Guitar Ensemble also makes an appearanc at the Madrigals Feast as accompaniment t the Chamber Singers Choir as they perform

The Symphonic Wind Ensemble rehearses once a week for a May concert and the various musical talents of its members are highlighted at the end of the year in a performance at graduation.

Gospel Choir

Top Right: Members of the choir look on as their director and friend, Michael Payne, speaks about their next song.

Bottom Right: Alto members worship freely through the song they are singing.

The ENC Gospel Choir is made up of more than 50 students who spend their free time worshipping and praising God, bringing their joy with them as they perform concerts for various churches, youth groups, and other venues.

The ENC Gospel Choir is a ministry that serves through music. We have made it out mission this year to not only be a musical performance group, but to be a service to others. Through our songs, our voices and the instruments we play, we strive to show others the love and freedom that Christ gives us daily.

Choral Union

ENC's Choral Union is made up of over 50 students and community members who gather once a week to rehearse sequential pieces of music such as Handel's Messiah that will be performed before the community.

Choral Union is a musical group on campus that expresses love of God through worship in song.

A Cappella Choir

Top Right: Proferror Timothy Shetler directs each member to use his or her individual, God-given voice.

ENC's A Cappella Choir is made up of more than 50 students who give 3 hours of their time per week to singing. Each year, the choir goes on four tours to different churches from Maine to Pennsylvania. Every rehearsal and concert prepares the students for their performance at Jordan Hall, a classical performance hall in Boston.

A Cappella Choir is a singing and ministry group open to all students. The choir seeks to grow spiritually and musically through rehearsals and devotions as a group as well as leading services at various churches. The choir's hard work and passion for music all culminates in the end-of-the-year performance at Jordan Hall in Boston.

Chamber Singers

Front Row: Paul Sapp

Chamber Singers is an extension of A Cappella Choir. Members of Chamber Singers take part in various activities and ministries outside of the ENC campus including an annual Madrigals Feast and a bi-annual international tour over the course of the January Term.

Jazz Band

The 4 O'Clock Jazz Band, with no surprise, meets at 4 o'clock every Wednesday afternoon under the direction of Steve Bell. Every year the group is a little different, being made up of ENC students as well as community members and high school students. This dynamic creates a wonderful environment for learning to play many styles of Jazz and Big Band music; Jazz is one of those things that gets passed down from experienced musicians to newer players. ENC's jazz program does just that and it has made this year a great one, setting us up to be better and better each year that comes.

Club & Organization Candids

When we are doing
what we love
we don't care about time.
For at least at that moment,
time doesn't exist and we are truly free.

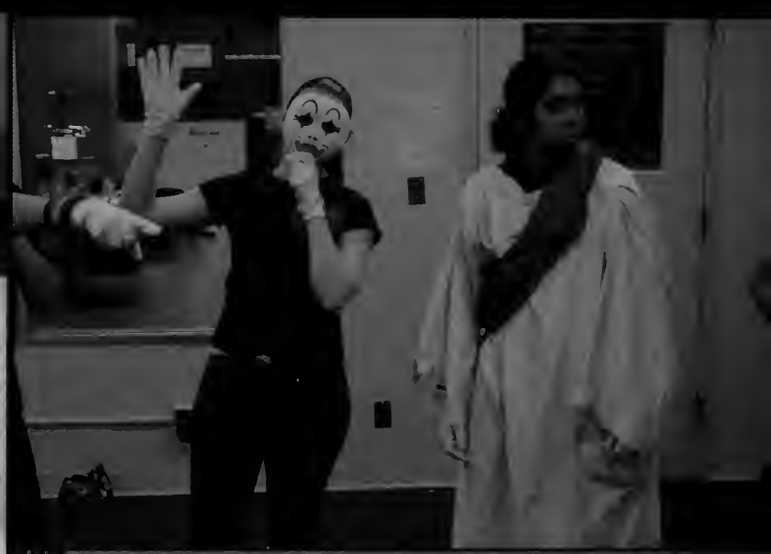
Do what you love.



Do what makes you happy.

OLORADO
STATE

Social Life

While coming up with our own fun around campus is always an exciting adventure, it is great to have big events that include the entire student body sponsored and planned for us.

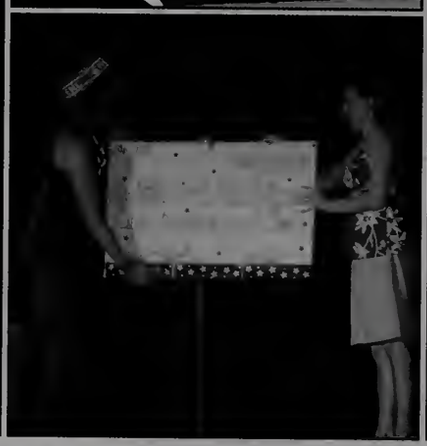
Social Life events are always unique, tons of fun, and certainly memorable. We get to see each other outside of class, being relaxed, and often times acting like fools - for instance, singing at the Lip Sync, doing something silly (like chugging root beer or riding a mechanical bull), or letting loose that inner child loose by sliding on a slip n' slide wearing black garbage bags. Then there is always plenty of good food and entertainment, and who could forget free T-shirts?

Social Life events are great demonstrations of the fun-loving kind of people we are here at ENC and of the life and energy that we have - if not for classes than for fun activities!

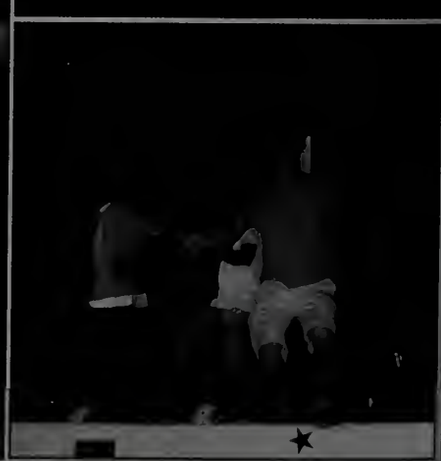
Welcome

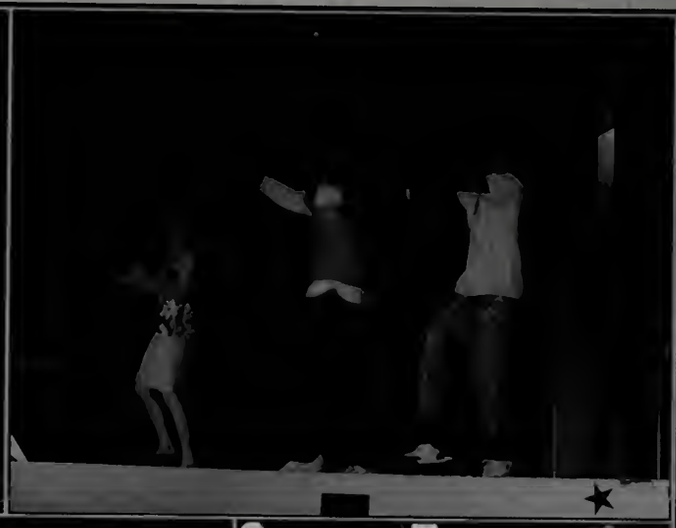
Week

Each year the SGA welcomes us all back to campus with Welcome Week, an event-packed week that gets everyone out of their dorm rooms into social gatherings full of laughter and fun. The theme of the 2007 Welcome Week was Ridin' High - a complete western extravaganza! Highlights included the Rootbeer Fest, a Drive-In Movie Night, and a wonderful Western Cookout out on Wolly Lawn, complete with a bull riding ring, bails of hay, and a chance to lasso a calf (metal, of course).

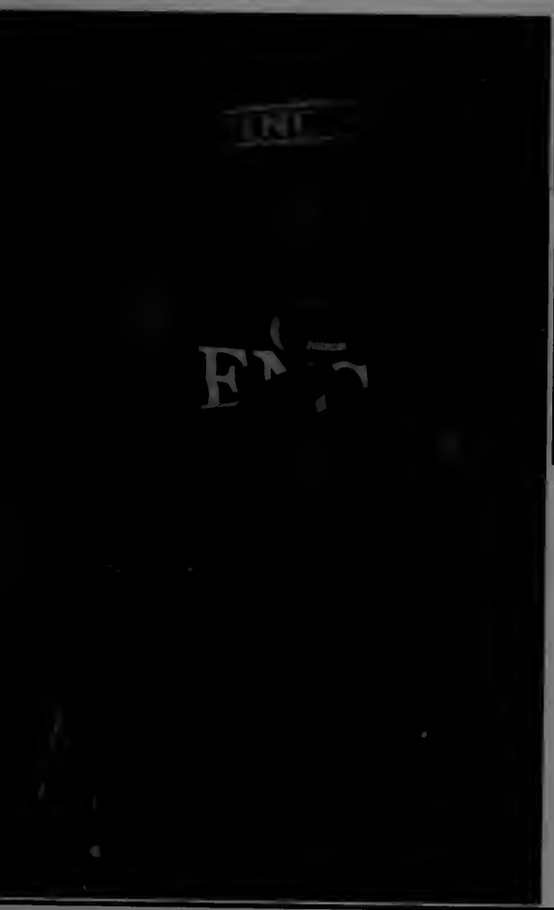


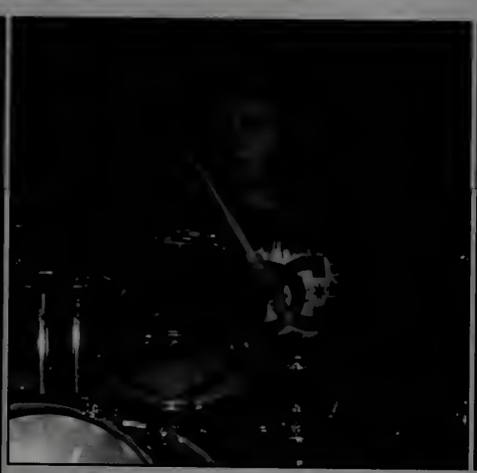
Star





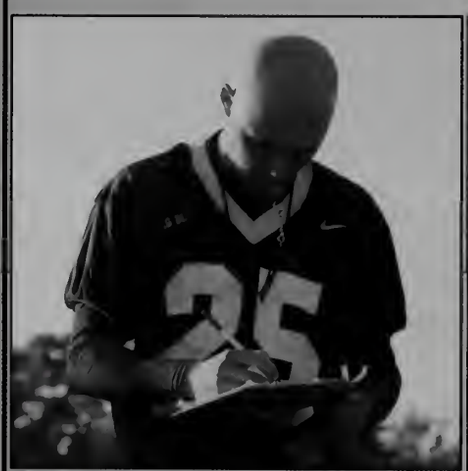
Search





Star Search provides the perfect opportunity for all of our very talented members of the student body to share their talents with the rest of us. ENC's bravest talent assumed their positions on the stage in the student center individually and provided the audience with quite the mixture of performances. From juggling, to crazy guitar playing, Star Search was a delight for all in attendance.

Flag



Football

Flag Football is always a great way to cram in some outdoor athletic activity before the winter months sneak up on us. Students form teams and sign up with SGA and then the games begin. Always action packed, these games turn out lots of sporting fun and a whole gamut of injuries. This year, there were no eyebrow rings torn out and the broken bones were kept to a minimum. All in all the flag football season was a success and, as usual, tons on fun.

Powder Puff

Football

The ladies get in on the flag football action as well. They form teams and definitely dominate the guys when it comes to color coordination between teammates. They also work tirelessly, training to be their best. The games are exciting and competitive and they are enjoyed by all who attend.

Big Sister/Little Sister

Big Sis/Lil Sis is a wonderful opportunity for freshmen girls to get to know the upperclassmen girls. It all begins when upperclassmen girls choose little sisters from the freshman class to secretly encourage. Big sisters leave the assigned little sisters little notes and gifts in their mailboxes over the course of a few weeks, and this all culminates into a big event, where the big sisters introduce themselves to their little sisters and have an evening of socialization and fun.

Who Knows You Best

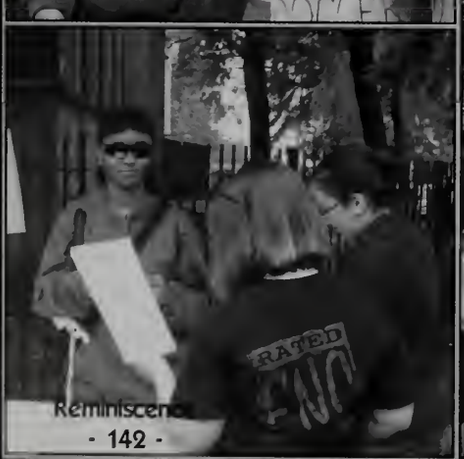
A spin-off on the classic "Roomately Wed" game of years past, this live gameshow-like event tested the knowledge of couples and roommates about eachother. Humorous rounds of questioning and dynamics between partners made this event exciting and hilarious to watch.

Harvest

Party

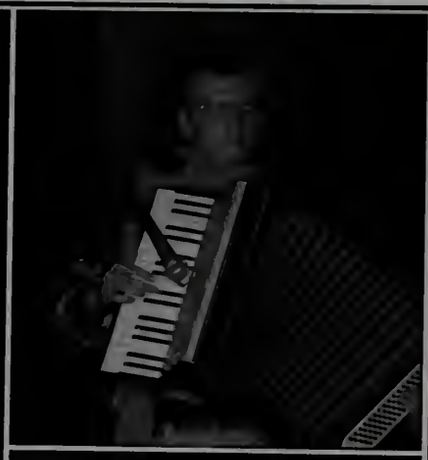
ENC's version of a Halloween party, this event held in Spange Parlor was a great opportunity to put on a Halloween costume and get loads of free candy - minus the whole Trick or Treat deal. A "best costume" contest promised some pretty great prizes and, of course, this year's winner was the Carpet Monster!

Homecoming



Weekend

Homecoming is always an exciting event in the fall at ENC. With alums returning to visit, the campus comes alive with people and events. This year class councils raised money at the Street Fair and there were plenty of fun activities and good food to enjoy. A new homecoming court and king and queen were elected (congratulations, Katy Crouse and Jesse Mix), and the Homecoming Banquet was a great success, with a beautiful Parisian theme, complete with a glowing Eiffel Tower.

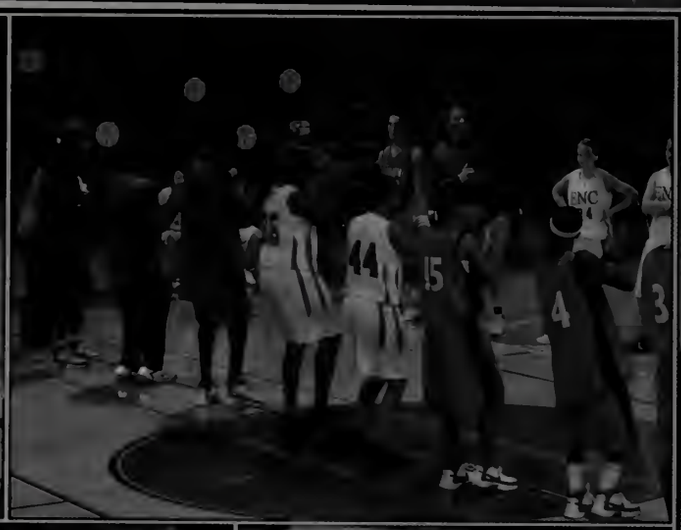


Battle Of

The Bands

Once again this year the Battle of the Bands was a rockin' good time. A line up of ENC's musical talent provided an entertaining night of music from various genres as bands played and sang their hearts out in hopes of coming out on top. This year's winners were the Salty Peeps! Congratulations!

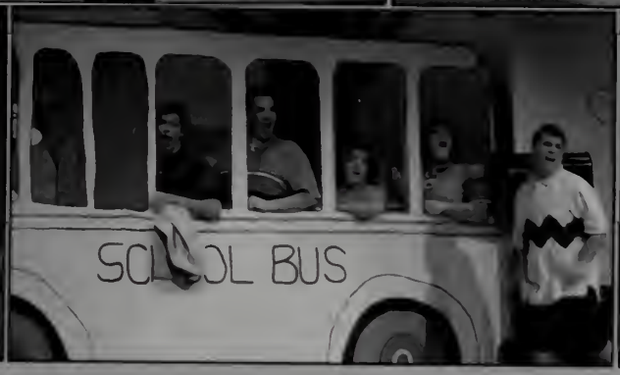
Midnight



Madness

By far the best in years, the '07-'08 Midnight Madness event was all about high-charged energy from the fans, a special dance performance by the basketball players, and a battle of the societies to reign as the society with the most school spirit. Fans showed up adorned in red, white, and black from head to toe, and who could forget about all of that face paint, the gorilla, the Carpet Monster, and that freshman dressed as a banana...

You're a Good Man



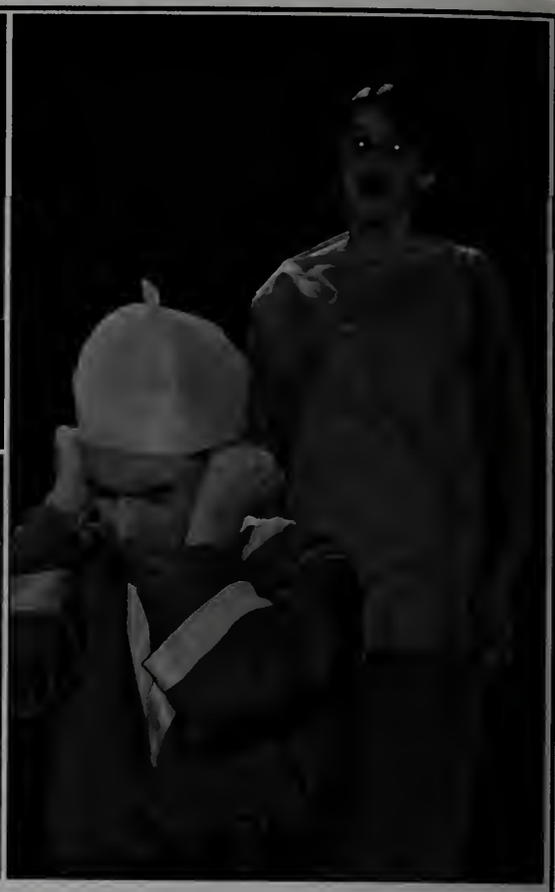
Charlie Brown

Who doesn't love the Peanuts gang? Now add ENC's theatre department and some very talented actors and actresses, Cove auditorium, and of course, very creative costumes, and you've got ENC's fall musical. Originally performed at ENC years ago, with some of our very own professors taking the stage, Charlie Brown made another appearance this fall and was a huge hit!

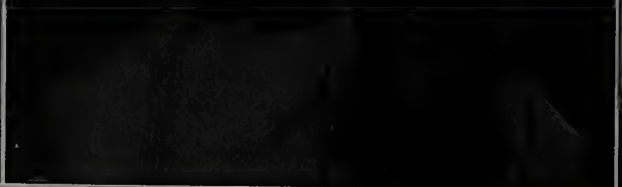
Men's & Women's

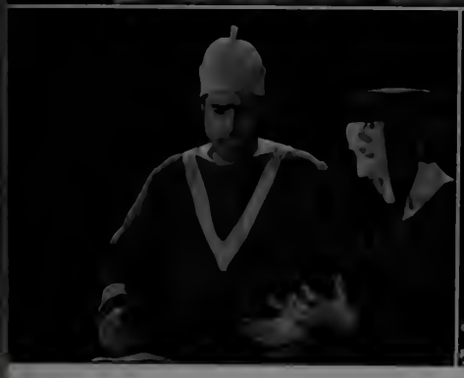
J-Term Basketball

In the midst of January, and the ease of taking just one class a day, Jterm basketball provided an opportunity to get those who are more athletically inclined to get on the basketball court, and those who support themto get their behinds on the bleachers cheering them on. With teams like Red and Black Attack, Championship, and Fire on the court, the gym came to life for some great girls' and guys' basketball.



The Prioress'

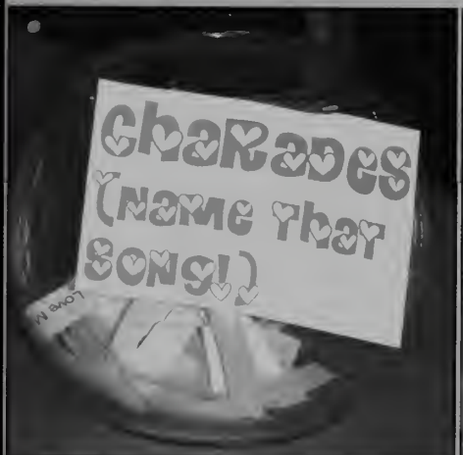




Tale

ENC's own Delvyn Case completed writing the music for his original one act chamber opera, The Prioress' Tale and it was performed on January 17th and 19th this year. The opera is based loosely on Chaucer's Canterbury Tales: The Prioress' Tale. It is considered a dialogue about issues of religious tolerance.

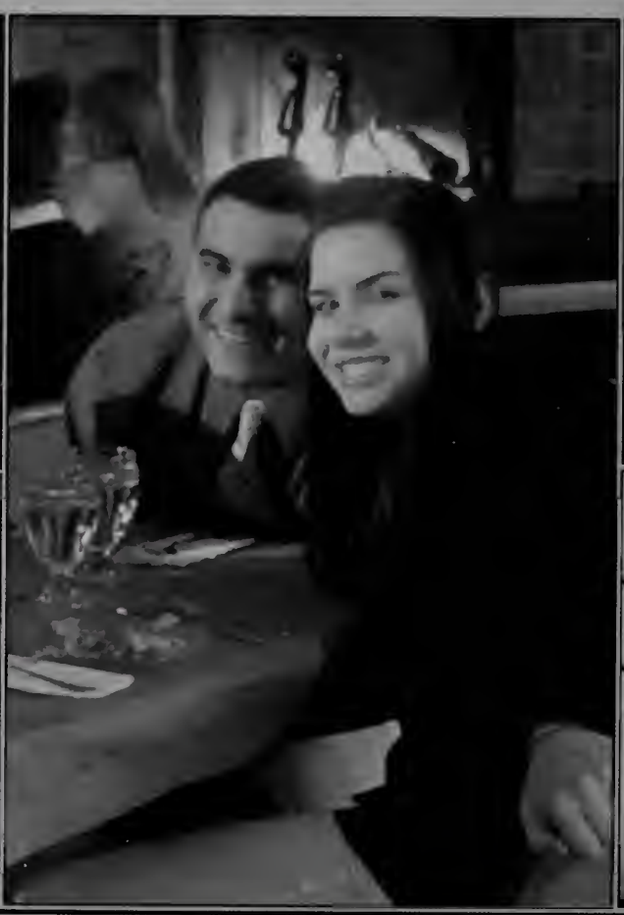
MOP and

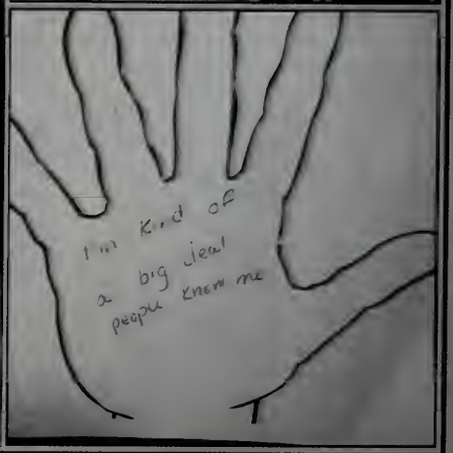


TWIRP Week

Yes, the Men were On the Prowl, and yes, the Women were Required to Pay, as this year's MOP and TWIRP week came around. Per usual, the guys were allowed to ask any single lady on campus out for a date with no chance of rejection, and the ladies were permitted to ask out any single gentleman and treat him to a night out.

MOP and





TWIRP Week

Some were more creative than others in their invitations to the date, some dates were more pleasant than others, but all in all, this of scary, unexpected, andinteresting dating experiences were definitely memorable ones. To encourage the opposing genders to interact, the SGA hosted several events incliding the Stoplight Party, the Sweetheart's Banquet, and a splendid Date Auction.

A Shayna

Maidel

A Shayna Maidel is a haunting story of hope and healing after WWII. IT focuses on the amazing bond of an immigrant Jewish family after the Holocaust., emphasizing that any hardship can be endured if you have loved ones beside you - even if only in the heart's memory.

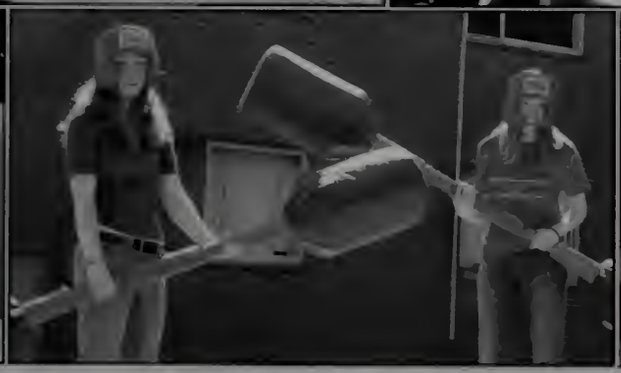
Spring



Fever

Every year, ENC gets Spring Fever and the SGA gives us a week full of fantastic, exciting events to get us pumped up for the spring and summer months. This year's events included a Blow-up Bonanza on the center lawns, a special edition of WAM outside on the Spally porch, the ever-so-elegant Mr. ENC Competition, a Trashbag Slip-n-Slide on Shields' Field, a rockin' concert from Kate Brule and Steve Carroll, and the infamous Lip Sync.

Spring

Fever

For many of the events, students, faculty, and their children shared some laughs and some great memories with one another as they made fools out of themselves all throughout the week. It wasn't uncommon to find professors battling students in jousting or racing through the obstacle course. And, of course, who can forget the Twinkie eating contest?

"Every new beginning comes from some other beginning's end."

Our foundations have been built here. Let's keep going.

The fun times we shared

I will never forget.

There will always be thing,

memories, we will not forget

Remenisence is all about remembering the good times had

SENIORS:

There are a few people who would like to wish you well, congratulate you... and completely embarass you.

We hope you enjoy these next few pages!

At five years of age, you said you were smarter than your parents. It seems now you are well on your way to proving it!

We're proud of you, Joseph John Cox!

Lots of love,
Mom & Dad

Well done, Shelle Belle!

You have attained another goal with complete grace, maturity, and humility. Through laughter, tears, obstacles, and refinement, you continue to live your life in a way that is pleasing to our Lordr Jesus, which is inspiring yet challenging to those around you. There are simply not enough words to describe how much of an encouragement your life has been to our family and those closest to you.

We are extremely blessed and grateful to have you as our daughter, and as James' sister. With hopeful anticipation we look forward to watching the next stage of your life unfold as beautifully as it has thus far.

We all love you so much, sweetie;
you exemplify what true faith is.

Thank you for being who you are!

Hebrews 11:1; Psalm 29:11;
2 Timothy 1:7; Numbers 6:24-26

You Go Girl!!!!

Congratulations!

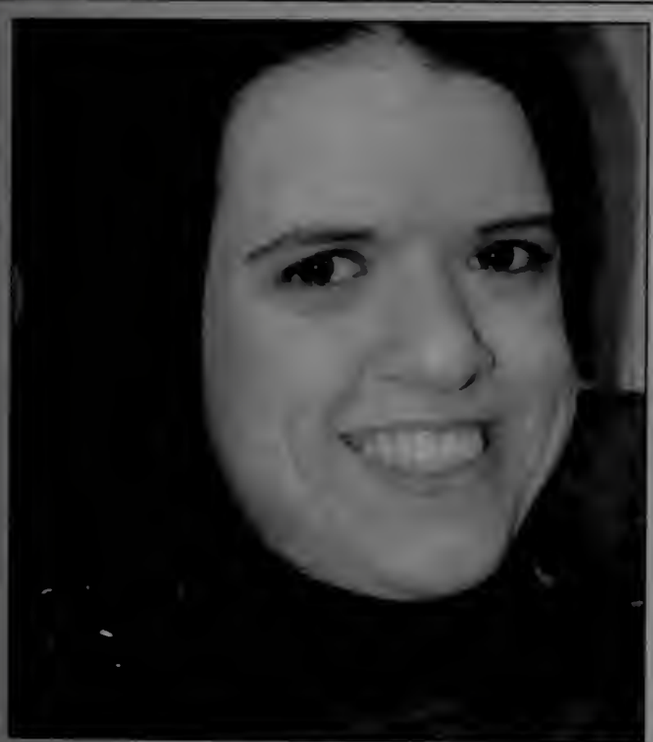
"Trust in the LORD with all your heart and all your soul and all your mind and all your strength."
Proverbs 3:5

CONGRATULATIONS AND KUDOS GERRIANNE!

You have done well! It was our pleasure watching you matriculate from girly hair-braids to high-heels, and pre-school to college. We are proud of you and your tenacious determination to succeed; just continue to trust God and may your life's decision be guided by:

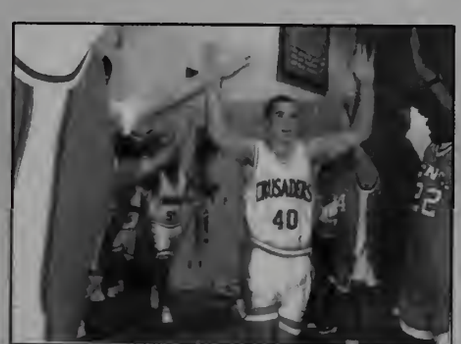
Prov. 16:3 "Commit to the LORD whatever you do, and your plans will succeed."

Our Love,
Bro. Herb & Goddie "J"



Congratulations to our daughter
Katrina Gauthier!
We are so proud of you.
Trust in God from the bottom of your heart; don't try to figure everything out on your own.
Love,
Mom & Dad

Congratulations
Christian Corey



We are very proud of you!

Ps. 37:4

"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord. "Plans to prosper you and not harm you, plans to give you a hope and a future."
--Jeremiah 29:11

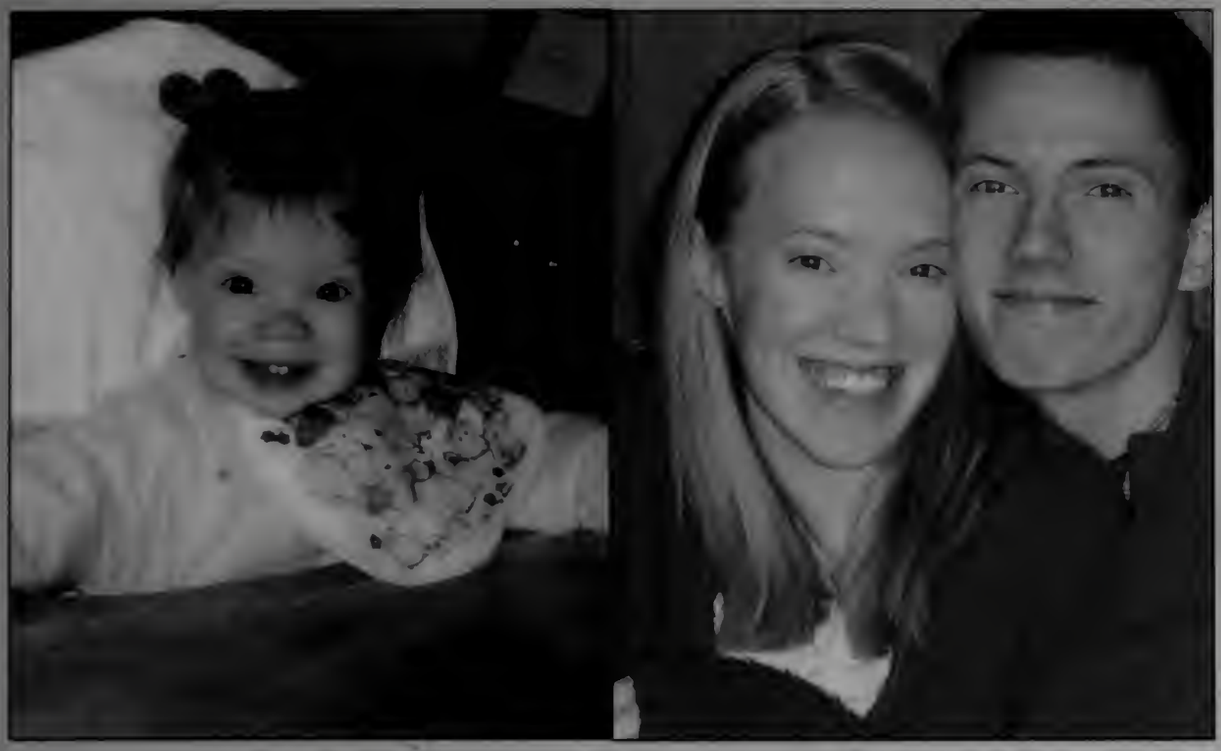
Angela,
We love you and we are very proud of you.
Always,
Mom, Dad, and Michael

Congratulations to our Gerri!

We are all proud of you!

-From your parents, siblings and their spouses.

"For I know the plans I have for you," declares the Lord. "Plans to prosper you and not harm you, plans to give you a hope and a future." --Jeremiah 29:11



Congratulations Allie!

We have watched you grow and are so happy for you and the lovely Christian woman you have become.

Love always,
Mom, Dad, and Kayla

What doesn't kill us makes us stronger.

- Friedrich Nietzsche

"We are survivors. We are resilient. Within us is great strength, an ability to overcome and to endure. From pain we never deserved, we build walls to hold in our secrets. Secrets that seem too difficult to face head-on. Secrets we fear, if shared, will only bring more pain. You have a choice and you have a voice. Keep your secret locked up within your walls forever, or use your strength and courage to break the silence and allow the truth to set you free." - N.B.B.

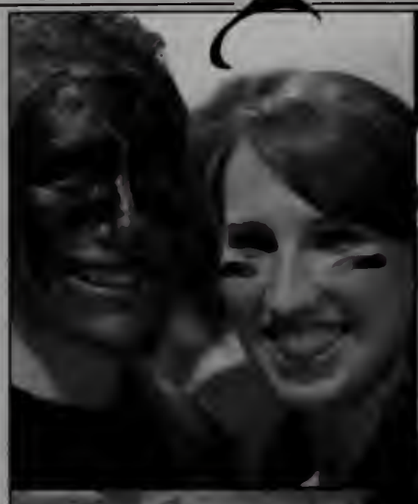
Nina, we are so proud of you and your ability to rise above the obstacles in your life.
You are our hero.
Love, Mom and Colby

Editors' Page



Working on the 2008 Nautilus yearbook has been a truly rewarding experience for me. It has been an honor to be involved in such a big part of ENC; after-all, it is within this simple book that we archive our memories of our precious college days. Being able to work with such amazing members of our school community has taught me so much about what can be accomplished with determination and dreams for the future. Thank you to my creatively brilliant, hardworking co-editor, Hil, and to Justin and all of my friends for their support from the beginning through to the completion of this year's book. I hope that everyone enjoys our masterpiece of the memories of 2008!

Editor-in-Chief

There's only one reason this yearbook stands 100% complete before you: friendship. Whether it be the friendships that the small campus and community that ENC inspires or the people who were there to make me laugh, to listen to me cry, or o just let me chill, this book would not exist without you all!

Magon- I hope you know that I wouldn't even be interested in yearbook if it hadn't been for you and Katie in high school. This is all thanks to you. Roommates- Don't ever let me or my words fool you: I love you both and wouldn't have wanted any other roommates for this year. Erica & Marie- I'm so glad you both were just a few stairs away this year. You both have taught me a lot. Rita- I'm so glad we got closer this year, and since I'm writing this without knowing if you're leaving me, I love you either way! Chelsea & Kayla- Thanks for welcoming me into your lives so readily. It's so nice to find an escape with you all on the 4th floor! Katy- So you left for Romania, but I won't forget your encouraging words in the office. They meant a lot! Andrew- Thanks for always being there when I needed you. I fill-in-the-blank you. Jon- Every now and then when you would poke your head into the office, it was always just when I needed it. Thanks. Christina- It was tough figuring out what to do this year, but I wouldn't have wanted any other co-editor to go through it with! And, of course, to anyone not mentioned, thank you all for being such wonderful friends, and if I had more space, you ALL would be in here!
